ILLINOIS TRAIN WRECK CLAIMS LIVES OF TWO

34 Hurt as Zephyr Derails, Crashes Into Suburban Station.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 4—Two passengers were killed and about 34 persons were injured when the Burlington railroad's speeding Twin City Zephyr was derailed by a tractor and crashed into the railroad station at suburban Downers Grove last night.

The tractor had fallen off a westbound freight train that had just passed on an adjoining track and into the path of the stainless steel streamliner, eastbound from Minneapolis to Chicago.

The crash in a flash of flame and shower of falling bricks ripped up three sets of tracks nine miles east of Naperville, Ill., where 45 persons died last April 25 in a collision of two Burlington passenger trains.

Several eyewitnesses said they saw "a tremendous ball of fire" as the Zephyr left the rails.

The diesel train, which the Burlington said was traveling at its usual 75 miles an hour clip through the suburb 21 miles west of Chicago, smashed into the side of the unoccupied brick depot, partially wrecking it.

Police said the crash occurred at 11:41 p. m. The Zephyr was due in Chicago at 12 m. It left Minneapolis at 5:10 p. m.

The dead passengers were identified by police as Lloyd W. Wright, 48, of Oak Park, Ill., and Edith Hetland of Minneapolis.

Most of the injured were taken to hospitals at nearby Himsdale and Aurora. Three were reported in serious condition.

The Zephyr's engineer, Clarence Thurston, 67, of Aurora, Ill., was trapped in the cab.

He was reported in serious condition.

Property damage of $50,000 was estimated by John P. Falk, Chicago division superintendent of the Burlington, who said some traffic was resumed early today through the wreck site.

Passengers on the Zephyr said the impact was severe and that most of them were lucky to escape serious injury. Many were college students and other Easter weekend vacationists.

Early Closing Saves Station Attendants

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 4—Charles Draper, station agent at suburban Downers Grove, and his wife said today they probably saved their lives by closing the Burlington depot an hour early last night "for no reason at all."

Draper said he and his wife, Ellen, usually stay at the depot until 11 p. m. but closed last night at 10 and departed.

About 40 minutes later the Burlington's Twin City Zephyr passenger train was derailed and coaches smashed into the depot, demolishing part of the one story brick structure.

POWER PLANT CREW WILL MEET AGAIN

Another Session on Union Matter Set Tonight.

A second meeting to determine what action employes of the Scioto Plant, Ohio Public Service Co., will take to obtain bargaining rights, was scheduled for tonight after W. R. Munger, Cleveland representative of the CIO, told plant employes last night the National Labor Relations board would not recognize Local 353, Utility Workers Union of America (CIO) as the bargaining agent for plant workers. All 50 workers at the plant are members of Local 353.

Tonight's session was scheduled after employes last night, meeting in the Prospect township house, voted to have a committee meet with Frank Converse of Cleveland, vice president of the Operating Engineers (AFL) to discuss collective bargaining rights with the Ohio Public Service Co. Besides Mr. Munger, C. L. Lewis, also of the Cleveland CIO office, was present.

T. G. Ellinwood, president of Local 353, said today, that in order to obtain bargaining rights for the workers, he believed a percentage of them would have to give up their membership in the CIO union and join the Operating Engineers.

In an NLRB election last November the workers of the plant voted to join the Operating Engineers union, but following the

Lewis' Demand for More Mine Safety Favored by Congress

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—John L. Lewis' demands for greater safety for men who mine coal in what he called underground "slaughterhouses" brought ready promises of help from congress today.

Various house members urged safety laws with "teeth."

Lewis got some support, too, for a proposal that the government give back the $710,000 contempt of court fine on him and his United Mine Workers union to help widows and orphans of men who died in the two big mine explosions of recent years—Centralia, Ill., last week and Straight Creek, Ky., in 1945.

But members of a house labor subcommittee who heard the booming UMW president testify for six hours yesterday showed no inclination to go along with his suggestion that congress ask President Truman to fire Secretary of the Interior Krug.

The President declared in response to a news conference question whether he had given any thought to removing him, that Mr. Krug is an efficient public official.

Lets Krug Carry Ball

But he said he would leave any reply to Lewis up to Krug.

As he had done before—and this time with all the spectacular oratory he can turn on at will—the UMW chief again accused Krug before the house hearing yesterday of letting 111 men die at Centralia last week through "criminal negligence" in failing to enforce safety standards.

The subcommittee planned to give Krug his chance to fire back sometime after next Thursday.

Krug advised a senate subcommittee making an on-the-spot investigation at Centralia yesterday that a federal inspection of the mine only a week before the explosion showed "no imminent danger" despite 55 items of noncompliance with the federal safety code. But in any event, the secretary added, the report did not reach him until after the blast.

Invite Lewis Sound-Off

It was because of the Centralia tragedy and the six-day period of mourning now in effect in the coal mines that the house group invited Lewis to sound off.

He said the holiday was called to awaken the "conscience" of the people and congress to the dangers miners face.

Lewis clashed at times with committee members yesterday. But for the most part he got a sympathetic reception. Chairman Max Schwabe (R-Mo) told reporters:

"Mr. Lewis certainly made a good case.

"The subcommittee may very

Many 'Unsafe' Mines To Open

Spokesman Says 25 Per Cent Will Have Corrected Defects by Monday.

By The Associated Press

At least 25 per cent of the 518 bituminous mines closed by federal order as unsafe "are expected to be certified okay" before Monday—the end of a six-day mourning period by soft coal diggers—a navy spokesman said today.

"We expect to certify some mines as safe late this afternoon and many more tomorrow," declared the officer.

"Each company operating an unsafe mine received orders from Washington (from the office of Interior Secretary J. A. Krug) on what to do in their particular pits," the spokesman asserted. "When the operating manager of the mine and the United Mine Workers' safety committee declare the pit safe the Navy immediately certifies it as such.

Closed Mine Report Delayed

"We will know definitely late Saturday or Sunday the exact number of mines which will remain closed after the miners' six-day layoff."

The Navy spokesman insisted flatly "I don't expect all of the 518 mines declared unsafe to be operating on Monday."

"Some of the corrections will be quite extensive and will take quite some time to repair adequately," he added.

The Navy is operating the mines for the government.

If all the unsafe mines in 19 states remained idle Monday approximately one-fourth of the nation's 400,000 would remain away from the pits.

The solid fuels administration said the shutdowns ordered by Interior Secretary Krug will cut production by 616,000 tons a day, a drop of about 26 per cent from the normal output.

Field reports indicated some uncertainty as to what the federal directive would mean in terms of its effect on industrial and civic activities. At Chicago, city officials conferred with coal suppliers on ways of increasing stockpiles at city water pumping stations. Although a 21-day stockpile was available, the Illinois closings would result in a 50 per cent drop in the state's total production.

10,300 Idle in W. Va.

In West Virginia, biggest and richest bituminous state, about 10,300 miners out of 100,000 will be forced to stay above ground in more than 50 operations.

BANDIT ROBS ATTENDANT AT GAS STATION

Armed Man Gets $97 in Hold-up at Red Apple, North of City.

An armed bandit, wearing a handkerchief over the lower part of his face, held up the attendant of the Red Apple service station at the junction of routes 4 and 23 a half-mile north of the city limits about 4:20 a. m. today, escaping with $97.27. The station is open all night.

James Hesson, station attendant, told sheriff's officers the man escaped in a dark colored sedan, believed to be a 1940 or 1941 model, which drove south into the city.

Hesson stated he had just returned to the station from the Red Apple grill, which adjoins the station, and was dozing in a chair beside the soft drink cooler when the bandit entered. The intruder pointed an automatic pistol in his face and said, "This is a stick-up," Hesson related, and demanded he hand over money in his pockets and in the cash drawer. Hesson stated that after he had emptied the money on top of the cooler box, the bandit ordered him to the other side of the room and then walked out the door.

Believe Companion Waited

The man walked around a car parked outside and entered it from the right side, Hesson said, leading him to believe a driver already was in the automobile.

The station attendant described the man as being about five feet, nine inches tall, about 30 years old and weighing about 150 pounds. He said he was unable to obtain the license number of the car as it drove away.

Only Hesson was in the station at the time of the holdup. He said several trucks were parked outside, but the drivers were asleep in their cabs and knew nothing of the robbery.

Sheriff Checks Clues

Sheriff's officers were called to the scene and were checking for clues today. The establishment is owned by Paul Kunkle and Goebel Walston.

The robbery was the second to occur in the Marion area within two days. Attendants of the Spot restaurant of 435 West Center street were held up Wednesday night and $322 was taken.

WOUND KILLS YOUTH TIRED OF SCHOOL

Crawford County Boy Dies in Bucyrus Hospital.

Special to The Star

NEVADA, April 4—Jack Zurcher, 14-year-old Lemert school youth who was reported to have attempted suicide Wednesday in the presence of his classmates because his parents would not let him quit school, died today at 7:45 a. m. in Bucyrus City hospital.

He was taken to the hospital late Wednesday after classmates said he shot himself in the mouth with a .32 caliber revolver. The bullet lodged at the base of the brain and hospital attendants said he developed meningitis late last night.

His body was taken to the Moore funeral home in Sycamore where funeral services are being arranged.

The shooting incident happened after school children had gathered at a general store in the village where the youth was reported to have told his classmates he was angry with his parents because they would not allow him to quit school. After bidding farewell to them he walked across the road into a field and fired a revolver into his mouth, witnesses said.

He is survived by his parents, George William and Rachel B. Zurcher and two half-brothers, Ralph of Toledo and Howard of Lima.

He was born in Lima, Nov. 13, 1932. The family has lived in Lemert for the last six years, moving there from Nevada. He was an eighth grade student at Holmes Liberty school.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the residence in Lemert and at 2:30 p. m. in the Lemert Methodist church. Rev. Clayton Strauser will officiate and burial will be by the E. W. Moore funeral home of Sycamore in the Nevada cemetery. Friends may call at the home after late Saturday.

FARMER ESCAPES AS TRAIN STRIKES TRUCK

Mt. Victory Man in Freak Mishap at Crossing.

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 4—Paul Seiler, farmer living south of Mt. Victory miraculously escaped with minor injuries yesterday when a westbound Diesel-powered New York Central passenger train sheared the engine from his farm truck loaded with fertilizer, leaving him practically uninjured in the cab of the vehicle, at a crossing just east of New Bloomington.

The accident occurred when Seiler, unable to get the heavily loaded truck over the grade crossing was stalled with the front of the vehicle on the track. The fast passenger sheared the motor off hood from the truck, smashing the radiator, shattering the windshield, smashed the truck, and left Seiler sitting in the cab with only slight scratches from his glasses. It is thought that the heavy load on the truck acted as a ballast and prevented the truck from being dragged by the train. Friends said today that Seiler was about his day's work today, apparently none the worse for his experience.

Fair Easter Weather Promised Most of U. S.

Even though much of the country was covered by rain today, the little women probably won't have to put on her old grey bonnet for Easter.

A widespread storm area which developed today over the central plains states was moving northeastward, but prospects were that it would blow itself out in the St. Lawrence valley by Saturday night, leaving cool but pleasant weather in its wake.

Two Columbus Children Perish in Home Blaze

Marion Dark As Truck Breaks 2 Power Lines

Fire in Hotel Marion Linen Closet Adds to Confusion; Whole City Affected for Varying Periods.

Electric power was cut off in the city last night at 7:12 p. m. when a trailer-truck went off the road on route 4 about six miles south of here and knocked down two poles, breaking two main feeder lines.

The wooden poles were situated on route 4 just north of the Scioto power plant, about ten feet from the road.

Power was off in various parts of Marion for periods of 20 minutes to one hour. About 20 employes of the Ohio Public Service Co. were rushed to the scene of the break and worked most of the night repairing the lines, which carry 13,200 volts.

Adding to the confusion downtown was a fire at Hotel Marion. The blaze was discovered in a linen storage room on the second floor shortly after the lights went out. Although confined to one room, damage to the room and its contents of bed linen amounted to about $2,000, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said.

Most of the 75 guests were out of their rooms when the fire was discovered. Many went to get their belongings, leaving both by fire escapes and by stairways.

Operation Interrupted

The power failure momentarily interrupted a surgical operation at City hospital. The hospital's emergency power plant did not function properly, but the regular power came on before the operation was finished, according to hospital officials.

The driver of the truck was Raymond Heasley, 32, of Slippery Rock, Pa. He told the highway patrol his truck, unloaded, went out of control when he swerved to avoid an oncoming automobile. The truck sheared off the two poles, placed close together, causing about $100 damage to the vehicle. The driver was unhurt.

Harold J. Grigsby, general manager of the Ohio Public Service Co., Marion division, said that other feeder lines entering the city were insufficient to carry the entire load, but that complete service was restored at 8:12 p. m.

Batlle Fire in Dark

City firemen were forced to fight the fire at Hotel Marion in the dark. Chief Sifritt said he was told that employes of the hotel were unable to telephone or use the fire box located at East Center and State streets and were forced to drive to Central station to report the fire. The reported failure of the electric devices might have been due to the power break, he said.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Mrs. Emma Young, housekeeper at he hotel, said she had been ironing in the linen room. When the lights went off she left the room. Shortly afterward, W. E. Thomas, whose room is located nearby, discovered the fire.

RUSSIANS HOLD BACK ON CHINA

Molotov Fails To Send Information on Country Although His Demand.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 4—Official sources said today that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, despite his insistent demand for American and British reports on China, had thus far failed to furnish a Soviet statement in an exchange of information.

April 1 was the agreed deadline for the exchange of information on China demanded by Molotov. U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall, sent Molotov a statement last Monday, a few hours before the deadline.

There has been no explanation of Molotov's failure to give the Soviet side.

Meanwhile, a special committee trying to plan an agenda for tonight's meeting of the council of foreign ministers on German political principles were reported bogged down in disagreement. The members were hopeful, however, of finishing this work by the scheduled time of the council's meeting at 6 p. m., (10 a. m. EST) two hours later than usual.

Already, diplomats are beginning to argue whether the Moscow conference should be written off as a failure.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay's statement in Berlin yesterday that "all hope has been given up of reaching a setitement on reparations at this conference" was viewed by most Moscow observers as a correct estimate of the situation, but some authorities argued that the final evaluation could not be made until the last session is held.

The line taken by these latter is that the meeting has been useful in pointing up and dramatizing the conflicts between the Russians and the western powers, while at the same time providing a rockbottom foundation for future negotiation.

The strangling deadlock of the reparations issue, which Gen. Clay said could not be settled at this conference, blocks any action on the economic future of Germany, which in turn seems to stymie decisive action on the beaten nation's political future and other peace treaty problems.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall offered a compromise on the reparations issue yesterday, but there was no indication of Russian acceptance.

LILIENTHAL'S SENATE FOES ADMIT DEFEAT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Senate foes of David E. Lilienthal conceded defeat today in their weeks-long effort to block his confirmation as chairman of the atomic energy commission.

A 52 to 36 test vote yesterday was generally accepted as decisive. The 14-vote margin killed a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to send all the atomic nominations back to committee for an FBI check.

The senate is taking an Easter recess and the final vote cannot be had until next week. But the fight was gone out of most of the anti-Lilienthal forces.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who charged that Lilienthal was too "soft" toward Communism and Soviet Russia, said he saw no reason why the final tally should be much different from yesterday's vote. He claimed that sentiment was just about what he thought it would be.

Phone Seizure Called Legal

Clark Says Truman Can Take Over Strike-Threatened Industry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Attorney General Tom Clark said today President Truman has the right to seize the telephone industry in the current labor dispute.

Clark told reporters at the White House, after a cabinet meeting, that seizure authority exists under the federal communications act.

He said Mr. Truman did not ask his opinion, but that Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach did ask him to say whether the government has seizure powers.

Clark said he gave the ruling to Schwellenbach.

Asks Labor Ruling

President Truman told his news conference yesterday that he had asked the labor department to determine whether a legal basis exists for taking over the industry in the event of a strike of 287,000 telephone workers Monday.

Clark said he looked into the communications act after reading in the papers that there was a question as to federal authority.

He said the act—"passed in 1940, I think"—is based on the war emergency but is still in effect.

The attorney general said the authority will continue until six months after the official "termination of the war."

That leaves the date of expiration indefinite. Legal opinion [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

First steps toward the organization of a squadron of the Air Force association here were taken Wednesday night when a number of service men enrolled as members following the weekly showing of war films at the clubrooms of Marion GI Post No. 584, American Legoin. Temporary headquarters will be at the clubrooms and until a permanent squadron commander is elected George D. Hildebrandt, former major in the Army Air Corps, will be in charge of membership enrollment and will provide information regarding the organization. Joining last night were John E. Midlam, who served as a corporal with the 13th Army Air Force, Francis D Cook, (staff sergeant) Eighth AAF, Joseph J. Wertheimer, (1st. Lt.) 15th AAF, Olin M. Hoesington Jr., (1st Lt.) Eighth AAF, Ronald E. Bolander, (Cpl.) Eighty-Ninth AAF, Robert K. Ruhl, (Sgt.) ATC, Paul R. Eshman, (Tech. Sgt.) 12th AAF, Richard D. Roux, (1st. Lt.) 13th AAF, and George D. To become a member veterans must be honorably separated or on active duty with the U. S Army Air Forces. The next meeting will be April 9 following the public showing of war department films at 8 p. m.

Organization of a squadron here is one of many throughout the nation and state. The work was started by General Jimmy Doolittle some months ago. The general is president of the AFA. The Ohio wing was activated by Richard S. Wolfe, Columbus banker, at the request of General Doolittle. Alan P. Tappan of Mansfield has been elected permanent wing commander. Mr. Tappan, president of the Tappan Stove Co., served as a colonel in the AAF during World War II. Fred J. Milligan of Columbus, formerly of Upper Sandusky and now secretary to Governor Herbert, was appointed deputy wing commander.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, He said, It is finished: and He bowed His head, and gave up the ghost." John 19:30.

"IT IS finished!" It was only one word of the Greek that Jesus uttered but it told of a completed work to which nothing now can be added. There on the cross He bore the full penalty for sin. He paid the utmost farthing. The anxious sinner seeking salvation has nothing to do but believe the message in order to enter into peace. Nothing can be added to a finished work. To attempt to add to it is but to spoil it. The debt is paid, sin is atoned for. The guilty soul is instantly cleansed from every stain, and justified freely by His grace, when he puts his trust in Jesus Christ, and rests upon that finished work.

"Nothing to pay?—no, not a whit:
Nothing to do?—no, not a bit;
All that was needed to do or to pay,
Jesus has done in His own blessed way.

Nothing to do?—no, not a stroke;
Gone is the captor, gone is the yoke:
Jesus at Calvary severed the chain,
And none can imprison His freeman again."

Kessell, who was working on a far mnorthwest of Marion, canfessed taking appriximately 20 letters from rural mail boxes near Charleston, Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said.

Charleston postal authorities filed the complaint against Kessell after the letters were found in a men's lavatory near the home of his half-brother, the sheriff said. The confession was made Thursday in the sheriff's office here to postal investigators from Columbus.

Kessell will be picked up by the U. S. marshal within the next few days, sheriff's officers stated.

DEMOCRATS SEEK TO BRING WALLACE BACK

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Democratic leaders apparently carried messages of President Truman today in a new effort to patch up differences represented on one hand by former Vice President Wallace and the other by Senator Byrd of Virginia.

Byrd, who is widely regarded as a more conservative line, has been cool along with leaders of other states to the first of a series of national committee pep meetings.

The Virginia senator has been openly critical of President Truman's proposal for this nation to go it alone in helping Greece and Turkey—as has Wallace although the two frequently are poles apart on other issues.

In announcing the series of meetings, Gael Sullivan, the committee's executive director, said that everything from foreign policy to the high cost of living would be discussed But he made it fairly plain that the main idea is to get Democratic wheelhorses together for an early and harmonious start on the 1948 presidential campaign.

Wallace, who has classed himself with the self-described Democratic "liberals," apparently will get as warm a welcome as any other party member when he arrives to hear President Truman address the Jefferson day dinner Saturday night.

Although Wallace isn't on the program, there are clear indications he isn't going to be snubbed despite what some of the Democrats are calling the "unfortunate" reference Sullivan made to him on a recent radio program

Marion Man Attends Epworth 30 Years Without Missing Single Sunday.

A record of more than 1565 Sundays' attendance at church school without a single absence, has been achieved over a period of 30 years by Ross A Martin, secretary of the Epworth Methodist Sunday school He was given special recognition by the school recently The approximate number of Sundays was reached by figuring 52 Sundays a year and adding an extra number with the fact in mind that occasionally there are years in which a total of 53 Sundays occur

In behalf of the church school, Dr V E Busler, Epworth pastor, presented Mr Martin with a Bible at a special assembly of the school Sunday, March 9 The gift was designated as a token of esteem for not only his record in Marion, but also for his record of 60 years of total church attendance with absence of but four Sundays because of illness His record attendance at Sunday school and church services began at his home church at New Hampshire, O. continued through his period of residence in Lima, where he attended Grace Methodist church, then through the 30-year period beginning with his presence at services at Epworth church the first Sunday after his arival in Marion March 7, 1917 He is a member of the official board and of the choir of the church as well as having been church school secretary 10 years.

"There were some Sunday mornings when he could very well have stayed at home, pleading discomforts of a cold or other indisposition, but he always said that if it were a workday he would make every effort to be on the job, and so he always managed to be in his place at the church," Mrs Martin declared "It was only during a period of hospitalization that he missed four Sundays while we lived in Lima," she stated. The Martins live on Bellefontaine avenue, and Mr. Martin is an accountant at the Pollak Steel Co plant here.

Man's Achievement Doubles Every 100 Years, Savant Says

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O, April 4 — Man's accomplishments resulting from mental effort have doubled each century for the past 300 years, says Prof Harvey C. Lehman, Ohio university psychologist

Lehman reached this conclusion after tabulating the achievements of man in 13 fields—chemistry, geology, mathematics, education, economics, political science, best books, entomology, botany, grand opera, philosophy, genetics and orchestral and symphonic music He published graphs of the progress in each field in the magazine Social Forces

In one field, genetics, more was learned about heredity during the first quarter of this century than in all preceding centuries together

Of the pesent, Lehman noted that because of the work machines do an individual may have "a stubborn problem in finding work that permits him to develop intellectually and spiritually."

Decision on Bringing War Dead Home Difficult for Families

By RUTH COWAN
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Should the remains of Americans who died abroad in World War II be brought home for burial?

Their families are not making a snap decision on this, but three-fourths of those the government has heard from say yes.

Congress has authorized bringing the bodies back to this country at government expense if the relatives desire.

The war department quartermaster corps sent out its first 20,000 letters of inquiry to the next of kin of soldiers, sailors and marines early in March.

So far it has had fewer than 1,000 replies. But more than 75 per cent of these want the dead to lie in U. S. ground.

To Begin in October

Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larkin, the quartermaster general, is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the repatriation program. He had hoped to see it begin in August. But now it is believed it will be September or October before it starts.

This is because of difficulty in getting a supply of steel caskets locating the next of kin—many of whom have moved—and the seeming indecision of the living.

That families take their time to decide—talk it over with the relatives and the clergy, if desired—is approved by the war department. It is seen as a question not to be answered quickly or without thought.

America's overseas dead in the first World War totaled about 51,000 of whom nearly 60 per cent were brought home for burial.

Toll Set at 385,000

In World War II the toll was 385,000. About 24,000 bodies have not been recovered.

The war department estimated that 80 per cent of the relatives would want remains returned.

It is possible this estimate may be revised downward.

Within the next week or ten days, the war department plans to release a list of those buried in Hawaii, St. Laurent, France, Henri Chapelle, Belgium, Cambridge, England, Nettuno, Italy, Gela, Sicily, and at Casablanca, Gafsa and Tunis, North Africa. The first bodies will be brought back from these areas.

The present intention is to return first the bodies of soldier, sailors, airmen and marines buried at Hawaii, the target of the first bombs to fall on American territory in the last war. A few days later shiploads will be coming in from Europe.

Buried in 209 Cemeteries

America's war dead from battles on land and sea through North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany and the islands in the Pacific have been buried in 209 temporary cemeteries.

Some of these cemeteries will be made into permanent resting places for those whose relatives decide against bringing them back to this country.

In this decision the war department is neutral. But a new army movie short, "Decision," which shows a family going through the return of a loved one, seeks to warn what the strain will be.

Mrs. George Patton does not intend to disturb the grave of the colorful Third Army commander, who died in an automobile accident in Germany and was buried at Hamm, Luxembourg.

In a "letter to the American people" published in the Congressional Record she said "what will come home to you isn't what you remember and love."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Infections

Everyone should realize that while penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs are wonder-workers against certain kinds of germs, they are completely helpless against others. Whether or not they will cure an infection depends on whether the infection is caused by the germs which they attack.

Thus, while they have been splendidly useful in treating some infections of the kidney and bladder, when it comes to others the doctor must look elsewhere for an effective weapon.

Cystitis or infection of the bladder and pyelitis or infection of that part of the kidney where the excretions collect before they pass into the bladder, may be resistant to penicillin or sulfonamide drugs.

Pyelitis and cystitis cause such symptoms as slight fever, pain and burning on emptying of the bladder and sometimes discomfort to the back. The urine is found to contain many white blood cells. This condition can be diagnosed by an examination of the urine and by the symptoms which it produces.

Drs. Grayson Carroll and Hollis M. Allen of St. Louis, Missouri, have treated 200 patients with these urinary infections with a cure in approximately three-fourths of them. The average time of treatment required to get rid of all of the germs in the urine was about six days. Some of the patients were relieved in three days while in others it took as long as two weeks.

Their treatment consisted in giving tablets made up of mandelic acid and methenamine. The tablets were given by mouth four times daily, after meals and before going to bed. No changes were made in the patient's diet nor was the amount of fluids he took altered.

It is encouraging to note that of 104 of the patients in whom the infection was caused by colon bacilli, more than eight out of every ten improved with the treatment. In some instances the infection was caused by staphylococci and streptococci.

In only three cases were there reactions to the drug. These consisted in one case, of sickness to the stomach without vomiting, and severe burning on emptying of the bladder in two cases. There was no evidence of any injury to the kidney as a result of use of these preparations.

From these observations it would appear that this preparation is quite effective in overcoming many infections in the kidney and the bladder. Furthermore, it can be safely used with little danger that any reactions will occur.

Of couse in every infection of this type the physician will want to make studies to determine the kind of germ present so that he can decide upon the best form of treatment. This shows once again the dangers of attempts at self-treatment and demonstrates why it is always better to consult a doctor in time of illness.

EXTENSION OF STATE HIGHWAY SOUGHT

Meeting To Be Held at Mt. Victory Thursday.

Representatives of five communities, Marion and LaRue in Marion county, Mt. Victory in Hardin county and Belle Center and Russells Point in Logan county, will meet at Mt. Victory Thursday, April 10, to discuss the possibilities of extending state route 95 west of LaRue.

Purpose of the meeting, a dinner session sponsored by the Mt. Victory Lions club, will be to draw up a preliminary request to be presented to the state highway department. The Marion delegation will be made up of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

Next Thursday night's meeting follows a session held several weeks ago by the Chamber's highway committee and LaRue business men when the route 95 project was discussed. Those advocating the project point out that state route 95 ends at LaRue and only an unimproved county road extends westward, causing a bottleneck for westbound traffic.

Dallas Harruff, chairman of the Chamber's highway committee, has asked Walter Grumblatt, a committee member, to act as chairman of a sub-committee for the project. Other members are R. G. Ardrey, Carl Danner, William Ehrick, Howard Geer, O. E. Hamilton, A. W. Kette, Bruce McVey and A. W. Newby.

Truman Nominates New Ambassador to Honduras

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Paul C. Daniels of New York, a foreign service officer, was nominated today by President Truman to be ambassador to Honduras.

He would succeed John D. Erwin, former Washington newspaperman and friend of Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.). Erwin's future status was not announced.

At the same time Mr. Truman nominated Willard L. Beaulac of Rhode Island to be ambassador to Colombia. Beaulac has been serving as ambassador to Paraguay.

The use of postal cards was first suggested in 1865 by the director of the Royal Prussian Post.

Easter

What more perfect phenomena to bespeak the glory of 'new life than the Easter miracle? Herein lies the promise of an eternal spring—an everlasting perpetuation of beauty—the source of fervent expectation to which our hearts give heed at the first sign of budding life. For this is the season of awe-inspired glory to which we lift open hearts to bask in the deep reflection and appreciation of an unselfish devotion. But let us not forget the deed, nor the sacrifice paid so that we could know the dimensions and richness of life. We must remember the great reward waiting and take opportunity each day to prove our worthiness. Easter may thus inspire the birth of spiritual effort in all to help us grow, unfalteringly, to-towards a better life.

Lorain Harbor Tied Up By Tugmen's Dispute

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., April 4.—Navigation in Lorain harbor was tied up today after officials of the Tugmen's union declared crews would not man harbor tugs of the Great Lakes Towing Co. until a working-time dispute was settled.

Lloyd Pease president of the ousted Tugmen's Protective association, composed of captains and engineers said the crewmen were protesting working on a call time basis and would not report for work until assured of steady employment.

Hitting the Sawdust Trail

ADVANCE word from Chicago was that Martin H. Kennelly would run away from his Republican opponent in the election for mayor because the Cook county Democratic machine bossed by retiring Major Edward J. Kelly was still unbeatable. The advance word was correct.

Democrats from coast to coast can take hope. They see a rift in the dark clouds that blotted out their sunshine last November. If they can stop a Republican comeback in Chicago, they can do it elsewhere. They can use the Chicago plan, a model of simplicity.

It calls for nothing harder to do than put new facades on Democratic machines in Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Kansas City, St. Louis, Detroit and Jersey City. Don't be surprised if Democratic "reform" candidates come busting out all over, just like June.

In the meantime, President Truman and his helpers at the national policy level will be scrubbing diligently at the red taint that hurt the party last November. Voters will be reminded every hour on the hour that a Democratic administration is being tough with communists.

This is good politics, part of the great game of appealing for votes by giving voters what they seem to want. The Republicans who hoped last fall that the Democratic party couldn't come back after its licking know now that its demise will not be that easy.

Democratic strength is based on party organizations in big cities. By carrying Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Detroit, St. Louis and Kansas City, the party carries Illinois, Ohio, New York state, Michigan and Missouri.

One Vote Did It

OBSERVERS had expected the bill to permit sale of colored oleomargarine would come to a vote in the state legislature this session, but the 5 to 4 unfavorable vote of the senate commerce and labor committee virtually kills its chances.

That means Ohio consumers will have to continue mixing their own oleo, a messy job at best and one they would gladly leave to the processors.

The legislator who cast the deciding vote to table the bill originally was reported to have favored sending it to the senate for a vote. He and the four others who voted against it probably have good and ample reasons for their action. Whatever their reasons, they have permanently alienated the oleo-mixer vote, a formidable segment of the population in these butter-short years.

Case's New Name

ONE OF OHIO'S distinguished educational institutions announces that it has changed its name from Case School of Applied Science to Case Institute of Technology. The school's officials decided its old name was somewhat outmoded.

For almost 70 years, Case has been one of Ohio's leading schools. Its graduates are the builders and technicians who have helped mold the sinews of modern America. Whatever the name of the school, the fact that they are "Case men" is recommendation enough when they offer their professional services.

Now Ohio has its C. I. T., just as Massachusetts has its M. I. T., although the initials must be used with caution when referring to Case. After all, Case doesn't finance the purchase of automobiles; that's the specialty of another C. I. T.—Commercial Investment Trust.

A Ridiculous Request

WHEN Yugoslavia undertook to estimate the war damages due it from Austria, it must have proceeded along the lines of the old-time army supply sergeant who reasoned: "Always requisition twice as much as you really want because you'll get half of what you order."

Yugoslavia asks $11,000,000,000 from Austria, which, of course, is ridiculous. Russia asks but $10,000,000,000 from Germany, which is 10 times larger than Austria and somewhat richer per capita. It's a safe guess that the total value of Austria, F. O. B. Vienna, isn't as much as what Yugoslavia asks.

The entire theory of war reparations is in need of overhauling. War has become such a debilitating venture that damages no longer are computable on a dollars-and-cents basis. Yugoslavia's request is the reduction to absurdity of the whole outworn procedure.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Politicians' Sugar-Coating Tactics Deplored.

WASHINGTON, April 4—A newsman who knows Mr. Arthur Krock, made a speech lamenting the sugar-coating of events by politicians and diplomats which obstruct any real public evaluation of developments in foreign policy. Naturally he was looking at the nominal leaders of both Republican and Democratic sects who decided to take the plunge into Greece and Turkey—and he was speaking about the peculiar confusions of all on that subject and particularly the proposed Vandenberg amendments.

Almost as if to prove the point unwittingly, there arose simultaneously in the senate an outsider, who had not been in on official preparation of the agreed but confusing course. Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, with some fresh intelligent thought on the subject. Byrd is not in UN councils, the White House inner circle, or even the foreign relations committee.

Byrd said: Send the whole problem to the United Nations organization immediately for an immediate decision. (No doubt he meant within a few days.) If you have a UN to protect world peace, here is certainly the place to start. If Russia, in this crisis, again vetoes action (she has nullified the organization by 11 vetoes thus far) then the public will have the true basic understanding of the issue without the sugar-coating. Thus you can evaluate the matter without cost; then all will be clear on what must be done and the price of action may be found to require more than $400 million by UN instead of the U.S.A. alone. The Vandenberg people say UN has not enough money to handle the matter.

Inside Truth

The inside truth of the matter is the Truman-Vandenberg coalition privately figured UN was just about gone anyway but had decided not to recognize the fact of its nullification by the Russian veto method. They let Britain throw the Greek and Turkish problem into a strictly American lap, thought they would have to move fast to thwart the Russian satellite campaign to carve a new Russian satellite state out of Macedonia in northern Greece and are seeking $400 millions to encourage resistance. They decided to peek at the program in an evasive way. Byrd recognized the larger and the truly basic issue and proposed to make it openly and publicly the world problem it is.

The Vandenberg amendments brought Byrd to his feet. These propose that aid to Greece could be stopped by a majority of the security council or general assembly, by request of a clear majority government in Greece, or if the purpose is accomplished or incapable of accomplishment. Of course Vandenberg figures we will be able to swing a majority in the assembly and perhaps a majority in the security council and wants to sidestep a possible Russian veto, which might bring aid to an end. He thinks we could veto cessation of relief under these amendments, as well as Russia could veto relief.

Vandenberg wrote these amendments himself, but the state department did not oppose. Yet they were written in answer to some criticism in congress about us giving military aid to anyone. Indeed you can currently see in some press dispatches from Athens a lament of the Greek government, and some of its actions against its Communists, some excesses in its moves to protect itself. Appeasement of Russia is in the air here, noticeably being put there by our own people who wish to argue details of whether the Greek government is right in all instances by our standards—an argument which, of course, obscures the real basic issue of expanding Russian domination.

King George No Saint

Actually and officially the comment about King George's sudden death contains some note of relief because he was not exactly a 100 per cent saint on our foreign policy, as well as the suggestion that perhaps King Paul will be more popular because he may be less strenuous—less strenuous in opposing Communism, that is. Now Paul is a strong royalist and it is being mentioned that his wife was a Hohenzollern, both of which facts are supposed to make him unpopular with us. After the Communist propaganda gets through with them, they no doubt will be as much subject to our criticism as brother George.

But the Truman-Vandenberg people say they cannot accept the Byrd suggestion which would be a repudiation (their word) of their agreed program. Apparently they would interpret the move as an unfavorable reflection upon the whole aid decision. Newspapermen, upon first checking, found little support for Byrd. Some even suggested it was a step backward toward original UN ineffectiveness in the matter, before Britain's withdrawal of any worthwhile support from Greece. Many thought it would needlessly delay action. Thus the issue will be resolved in the end in accord with the coalition decision.

But all concerned have their fingers crossed except Byrd, who apparently believes that a straight line is still the shortest distance between two points.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

A Problem of Over-production

More than 3,200 bills have been introduced in the first three months of the current congress.

No wonder there's a paper shortage.

Congressmen rush in where angels fear to tread. On Capitol Hill they have a saying, "Don't hesitate . . . LEGISLATE!"

One thing wrong with this country today is that we've got too much law and too little order.

A great many people have the idea that all our ills—atomic, economic and gastronomic—can be cured by passing a bill.

The truth of the matter is, of course, that most bills compound, rather than compose, the confusion. For every bill that's passed, three more are needed to clarify, and so on and on ad chaos.

Congress means well, doubtlessly. But isn't it a shame the boys don't put their emphasis on quality rather than quantity?

The Rhine's Vital Trade Role

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
Associated Press Writer

COLOGNE—The important part the Rhine river plays in central Europe's communications was emphasized during the past winter.

The freezing of the Rhine immobilized tens of thousands of tons of goods carried in the 750,000 tons of tugs and barges, seriously adding to the difficulties of the occupying powers.

The effect of the freeze-up was also felt in Switzerland, which uses the Rhine as its outlet to the sea, and in Holland, whose ports of Rotterdam and Amsterdam pour cargoes up the river for central Europe. The great industrial belt of the Ruhr also depends on the river for communication with southern Germany.

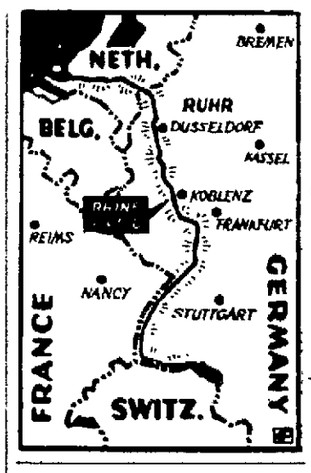
The tourist Rhineland of beer gardens, Lorelei legends, fairy-tale castles and steamer trips is no more. The Rhineland cities and towns are wastelands of war's devastation. But with the restoration of some of Germany's international trade, British officials have expressed the hope that during the next few years Rhine traffic will be restored to "something near the pre-war figure of 9,000,000 tons."

The combined efforts of the inland water transport authorities of the U. S., French and British zones have done much to restore the river to almost normal working conditions. Bridges had to be repaired, debris of demolitions removed from the river, port facilities rebuilt, new barges constructed, hundreds of existing ones repaired.

Then in December came ice, earlier than usual. The Freeman floating bridge at Dusseldorf collapsed.

Through January and February, with only a few clear days, great ice blocks impeded river traffic. Now the authorities are preparing for spring floods.

The Rhine has the largest floating population in Europe. Rhine barges are no midgets, averaging 2,000 tons, with whole families living aboard.



Nylons in Alaska

WASHINGTON—Up near Anchorage, in the snow-blanketed Chugach mountains of Alaska, where it's 30 below zero and women are as rare as Georgia peaches, the girls wear nylon stockings and a meal is appraised for its quantity.

At the Fire Lake Lodge, with a silver bar and a 16-by-16 dance floor, folks are invited to dine in their fishing, picnic, or working clothes and the food is "custom cooked."

Steaks (New York cut) weigh a pound, cost $3.50. Lobsters "selected and shipped from the Atlantic ocean under insured refrigeration," weigh three-fourths of a pound and cost $3. Good old milk-fed chickens, home fried, weigh a pound and cost $3.50 per person.

In nearby streams and ponds you can cut a hole in the ice and with salmon eggs for bait catch Dolly Varden trout and silver salmon.

All this is information brought back by Clarke Beach, Associated Press correspondent who just made a flying trip up there to inspect the Army's "Task Force Frigid."

Three-fifths or more of a mutilated U. S. paper currency bill, note or certificate is redeemable at face value by the treasury department.

"Gas Masks" Increase Storage Life of Apples

By The Associated Press

ITHACA, N. Y.—The storage life of applies can be increased 20 per cent by using charcoal "gas masks" in storage rooms, two Cornell university scientists found.

Ripe apples give off ethylene gas, they discovered, and this gas will make other apples in the room ripen much faster. Using the gas mask principle, Drs. C. E. F. Guterman and R. M. Smock circulated the storage room air through containers of charcoal. The charcoal captured the ethylene gas and cleaned the air. Tests have been made in actual commercial storage, they said, and in a normal year at normal prices the method might add $500,000 to growers' profits.

14 Ways To Tell a Red

FBI DIRECTOR J. Edgar Hoover outlines the following test questions for identifying Communist-front organizations.

Does the group espouse the cause of Americanism or the cause of Soviet Russia?

Does the organization feature as speakers at its meetings known Communists, sympathizers or fellow travelers?

Does the organization shift when the party line shifts?

Does the organization sponsor causes, campaigns, literature, petitions or other activities sponsored by the party or other front organizations?

Is the organization used as a sounding board by or is it indorsed by the Communist-controlled labor unions?

Does its literature follow the Communist line or is it printed by the Communist press?

Does the organization receive consistent favorable mention in Communist publications?

Does the organization represent itself to be nonpartisan yet engage in political activities and consistently advocate causes favored by the Communists?

Does the organization denounce American and British foreign policy while always lauding Soviet policy?

Does the organization utilize Communist "double talk" by referring to Soviet-dominated countries as democracies, complaining that the United States is imperialistic, and constantly denouncing monopoly-capital?

Have outstanding leaders in public life openly renounced affiliation with the organization?

Does the organization, if espousing liberal-progressive causes, attract well-known honest patriotic liberals or does it denounce well-known liberals?

Does the organization have a consistent record of supporting the American viewpoint over the years?

Does the organization consider matters not directly related to its avowed purposes and objectives?

The Consumer Pays

AMERICAN consumers must pay more than 38 billion dollars in taxes for the fiscal year 1947, either directly or indirectly, amounting to 22 cents per dollar of income; they will pay slightly more than 21½ billions directly, in personal income taxes, sales taxes, etc., and another 16½ billions indirectly, in the prices of the things they buy, according to estimates by Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. economists.

Thus consumers will contribute more than three-quarters of the combined total of federal, state and local tax revenues, which will add up to a probable 48½ billion dollars and which will absorb 28 per cent of total national income, estimated at 174 billion dollars for the 1947 fiscal year.

American consumers will buy some 133 billion dollars' worth of goods and services, calculated at present price levels, during the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1947. Contained in the prices of these goods and services must be 16½ billions in indirect taxes—property taxes, import duties, excise taxes, etc. — which businesses must pay as part of their necessary costs. Thus about 12½ cents of the average retail dollar will be represented by indirect taxes. Corporation income taxes are not, of course, included in these calculations, the study states.

The far greater load now carried by personal income taxes is one of the striking changes since prewar years, the study points out.

In 1940 personal income taxes totaled 1.4 billions—9 per cent of total tax collections—while for 1947 personal income taxes will contribute more than one-third of total tax revenues, or nearly four times their share of the 1940 tax burden.

In 1940 personal income taxes amounted to less than 2 per cent of total income payments to individuals, while for fiscal 1947 they will approximate 10 per cent of total income payments to individuals—five times the 1940 ratio, the study shows.

"Little Brown Church" Limits Nuptials

NASHUA, Ia.—From now on if you want to get married on Sunday at "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" here, you'll have to get there after 2 p. m.

Church trustees have voted that there will be no more Sunday marriages at the church, popular for years for weddings and subject of a church hymn, before that hour.

Letters for Special Delivery

MR. WILLIAM L. SHIRER.
Dear Bill:

You were always a must with me on the air. I never thought anybody came even close to you as a well informed, calm, reliable and highly interpretative news commentator. You could have knocked me over with a tube of shaving cream when I heard you were dropped, and I would bet you a hat some other sponsor will grab you. Nevertheless, I don't string with you in your reasoning that "the important thing is that a soap company can decide who goes off the air." There is a suggestion of a slur at the soap business. I have no friends in it and I am not even what could be called a soap addict, but I think it is entitled to as much respect as the oil business, the chewing gum business, the steel business or even the broadcasting business. It could even be more of a necessity.

What is more, Bill, I never have been able to get the angle that the fellow who pays the bill should have nothing to say about the hired hands. My old fashioned notion is that all people on the air are hired as performers. Somebody puts up the dough for the big money involved, and is real big. If that somebody thinks after a half dozen years that he will put on a new show who does he become a stinker who is imperilling the four freedoms, menacing the foundations of the republic and making a capitalistic heel of himself? Huh?

If a soap company, a cough drop company or a Kickapoo Indian ointment company forks over with the stuff that helps a man wade through moolah for a few minutes work once a week, what is so dirty and unthinkable about it when it decides a switch in the lineup might be okay? Even a soap company could be right.

Maybe the whole radio set-up is wrong and the broadcasting company alone should pay the performers without having any truck with the boys with the doughbags. But they would then have to cut the pay down a thousand or more a week and how many boys do you know who would leap at a chance to broadcast for a broadcasting company at $500 a job and scorn the business corporation who will make it $10,000?

What is so foul about it, if a soap, soup or succotash company for which a man works for years decides to change the act? And why is he a skunk if he puts on a news commentator any more than if he decided to put on a quartet, a quiz or a save-the-boxtop program?

Freedom of the airwaves? Well, the way to guard against that would be for a radio station to hire the commentator and never let him be touched by the "tainted money" of a sponsor. Do you really hold that a sponsor is on hand to stand for anything and everything the hired hands choose to say and that he is killing democratic principles if he changes the act?

Anyhow, your broadcasts during the war had no equal, you have been a favorite of mine ever since and I am sure you will be back soon for another sponsor. Take it, please, whether it is from a soup or nuts magnate and don't get sore if it isn't for life.

All good wishes,
ELMER

DORIS DUKE has taken a job as Paris fashion editor for Harper's Bazaar. As she is reputed to have more money than any girl in the world, it could be that she is being sent to France lend-lease. If this is so, we think it only fair to tackle the Near East crisis by sending Barbara Hutton to Greece and Turkey.

BACK HOME STUFF

"Branford, Conn.—A group of men, who bought an abandoned stretch of trolley line, with several trolley cars, to sustain the flavor of bygone days, took their first trip on the mile and a quarter line between East Haven Green and Short Beach today."—News item.

* * *

Well, we're applying for membership. That trolley line was one rich with boyhood memories. It ran from New Haven Green out through East Haven, took a sharp left at the Soldiers Monument there and went across the meadows, sweet with hay, toward Branford town. As it swung onto the trestle just west of Short Beach and swayed and swung its way over marsh, inlet and backwater, it used to seem to us a great adventure in high speed. Beyond Short Beach lay Granite Bay, (where our elders pointed out the house of Ella Wheeler Wilcox) Double Beach and Pine Orchard and the Thumbles.

Whoa, Woonsocket!

By TRUMAN TWILL

A bus driver from New York City started out on his route and ended up broke and happy in Florida a few days later. No, he hadn't stolen the bus. No, he hadn't done anything wrong. He had just yielded to the impulse to do something else that day besides the same old grind—and don't get any ideas, Woonsocket, you dog...

Such as starting to work in the old bus and driving past the lead mines, pretending not to notice them and never stopping until the middle of the morning, for a dip of coffee and a doughnut....

And telling the man to fill 'er up with gas, oil, water and whatever else it takes, also to check the tires and while he's at it slip on a couple new ones, the best he has in stock, and here's $10 extra for his trouble...

With plenty more where that came from, and if he will keep his mouth shut the secret under the back seat, a money mine, with inexhaustable resources, knock three times and say Charley sent you...

And now to get rolling again, because the cherry blossoms in Washington, D. C., won't wait, nor the apple blossoms in Virginia, the greening of the grass on the Great Plains, the breakup of the ice in the Minnesota lakes, and the opening of the baseball season in St. Louis.

There's a smorgasbord in Chicago, a place in Kansas City where they understand about beef steak, clam chowder in Portland and oysters Rockefeller in New Orleans...

There's a slab of Wisconsin brick cheese to be eaten in Milwaukee, frijoles in Dallas, planked salmon in Seattle, baked whitefish in Buffalo, fill 'er up, mister, and put on a couple more new tires...

All the roads are smooth and the blue sky rests like a benediction on the distant horizons, the world is round and 'round you go and where you stop nobody knows, and how about another cup of coffee, waitress, with a smile this time.

Springtime in the Rockies, every day's a holiday, innerspring mattresses on the hotel beds, every room commands a view of the historic city of Quebec, Houston, Vancouver, Marietta or take your choice...

Don't be alarmed, there's nothing wrong. The car isn't stolen, the driver isn't wanted for anything, he just yielded to the impulse to lick the same old grind... and now wake up, Woonsocket, the alarm clock has been ringing for minutes and who do you think you are, maybe a bus driver from New York City who went haywire and ended up broke and happy in Florida?

Off to the lead mines, Buster, and no funny ideas about driving past. You've got nothing but lunch money, a set of wornout tires, a crate that would conk out at the city limits and a lot of prior commitments.

TAFT VICTORY SEEN IN VOTE

Analysis of Lilienthal Tally Believed G.O.P. Defeat for Vandenberg.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—A 33 to 18 division of senate Republicans pointed to Senator Taft of Ohio today as the winner over Senator Vandenberg of Michigan in their first open battle for party support on a controversial congressional issue.

Vandenberg won and Taft lost in the senate test on the question of sending the nomination of David E. Lilienthal as atomic control commission chairman back to committee for further inquiry.

The vote was 52 to 38 against the action favored by Taft. But he carried along the recorded votes of 31 Republicans—plus the announced support of two others who were absent—in his unsuccessful fight to bury the nomination. Only seven Democrats supported the motion.

Vandenberg's side marshalled only 18 Republicans but had the help of the 34 Democrats.

Both Minimize Split

Both Republican senators, regarded as top leaders of their party's contingent in the senate and possible presidential candidates in 1948, deprecated the split. Both said the fact they disagreed over the Lilienthal appointment won't have any effect on their working together in the future.

They may face a new test of their unity in a few days when President Truman's $400,000,000 Greece-Turkey aid program comes before the senate. Vandenberg is all for it. Taft hasn't said how he stands.

Vandenberg took occasion to say in the course of a senate speech yesterday that he had no quarrel with anyone over the Lilienthal matter, adding that he had "full appreciation of the earnest zeal with which others hold a contrary view, including many of my warmest friends."

He voiced an "expression of candid regret that other possible nominees whom the President first unsuccessfully sought, declined to serve."

Calls Lilienthal No Red

Vandenberg declared he found no basis for the charge that Lilienthal had "either sympathy for Communism or too easy toleration of it." Taft had accused Lilienthal repeatedly of being 'too soft' toward Communism.

Taft arose later to retort that he thinks Lilienthal is 'naive' toward Russia and has 'a misconception of the Russian threat.'

The Ohioan said he noted that Vandenberg had quoted statements of scientists indorsing Lilienthal. The trouble was, Taft said, that these scientists hadn't read the record produced before the atomic energy committee during its hearings on Lilienthal.

Vandenberg praised the Baruch plan for international control of atomic energy and voted that Baruch supports Lilienthal. Taft replied that if the Lilienthal-Acheson report which preceded the Baruch plan were followed, atomic plants would be built in Russia "for them to operate and produce atomic bombs."

Coast Guard Takes Medals of Honor in Stride

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

MANTEO, N. C., April 4—Tarheel coastal side lights:

The war brought public accolaine for feats of battlefield courage but for many peace-time decades physical courage has been a quiet common place among a number of U. S. treasury employees along the North Carolina coast.

Hal Boyle

They are Coast Guardsmen whose routine job it is to save passengers and crews of vessels that meet grief on the shoal of Hatteras, the story Atlantic graveyard that has claimed some 500 ships.

Their official slogan is "Semper Paratus" — ever faithful — but the late Captain John Allen Mugett expressed their duty in more homely parase as he once led his surfmen to rescue of a tanker crew over oil-flaming waters.

"The regulations say we have to go out — but don't say anything about how they should come back."

30 Medals of Honor

About 30 Congressional Medals have been awarded for heroism performed along the 60-mile stretch of beach between Oregon inlet and Ocracoke inlet—one for every two miles along this sandy finger of death.

But winning the nation's highest award for valor—as well as scores of medals conferred by grateful foreign countries for rescue of their seamen—is taken in a matter-of-fact manner by veteran surfmen, nine of whom can launch a two-ton surf boat in heavy seas.

One visitor who came to photograph a much-decorated Coast Guardsmen found his granddaughter cracking a pecan with the Congressional Medal of Honor. The old timer fished the rest of his medals out of a lard bucket. One was from the king of Greece, another was from the British government. He finally got all seven pinned on his coat.

"What's that one?" said the visitor, pointing to the Congressional.

"Oh! a lot of guys around here have got that," said the old surfman, and pointed with real pride to a small Coast Guard emblem. "Look at this one."

It was for top performance in some routine Coast Guard training feat — but no one on this station had won it but him.

There is one word you'd better not mention when you are in Big Kinnakeet, a fishing village just north of Cape Hatteras which maps list as "Avon."

The 489 residents — mostly Coast Guardsmen and fishermen—call themselves "Big Kinnakeeters" and joke that their chief import is wrecked ships.

Yaupon Is Fighting Word

The word you don't say in front of an "Big Kinnakeeter" is "Yaupon."

Yaupon is an evergreen, thornless American holly. Indians used it as emetic and old settlers gave a tea made from its leaves to women in child-birth. The tea was also popularly supposed to have rejuvenative and aphrodisiacal properties.

Many years ago during the hard times Big Kinnakeet fishermen were reduced to gathering yaupon and peddling it to the mainland. They drank yaupon tea themselves because they couldn't afford coffee.

When a village boat approached the shore, the mainland children would set up a taunting chant:

"Big Kinnakeeters are well fed, they drink yaupon tea and eat corn bread."

Those days are long past but the word remains so obnoxious to a Big Kinnakeeter that to use it in his presence even now is to invite a fist fight.

ducing state, counted 157 pits on the banned list. They employ an estimated 15,000 miners who normally dig 90,000 tons of coal a day. The state numbers 100,000 soft coal miners.

In two states, Krug's order drew a quick protest from coal operators

Harry A. Sutter, vice president of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association declared

"The order came as a shock. There were no reasons given for any of the shutdowns. Pennsylvania laws are strict and well-enforced."

Operators Nonplussed

The Virginia Coal Operators association issued a statement declaring operators of the state's 22 closed mine were "nonplussed with reference to what they were required to do to meet the standards which would permit them to reopen their mines"

In the Pittsburgh district, three steel company-owned mines were among those deemed unsafe and ordered closed They included one pit each of the U S Steel Corp, Republic Steel Corp, and Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp

A U S Steel spokesman said his firm was still studying possible effects of the shutdowns but said the action would affect only about five per cent of its "captive" pit operations. J. and L. maintained silence

Little Effect in Iowa

The Des Moines office of the coal production administration said the shutdowns would have little effect in Iowa Of six mines closed, only two were operating full time and one intermittently

A Knoxville, Tenn., operator said closing of at least 12 of more than 60 mines in east Tennessee, southeastern Kentucky and southwestern Virginia, will cut production 25 per cent.

The mourning period, plus the closing of mines called unsafe, threatened operations of three Baltimore, Md., coal piers, shipping officials reported.

In Oklahoma where 10 mines, producing about 1,000 tons daily were ordered closed, an operators' spokesman said approximately 400 miners would be affected in the major bituminous fields

Three hundred miners in Washington state will be idled by the Krug order

Ohio Officials, Owners Protest Mine Directive

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, April 4—Interior Secretary Krug's order closing Ohio mines had state officials and at least one coal company owner voicing protest today.

Stephen Williams of Coshocton, chief of the Ohio division of mine, his chief, William J Rogers, state director of industrial relations, and James Hyslop of St. Clairsville, O, vice president of the Hanna Coal Co, joined in questioning the fairness of the order yesterday closing the Ohio mines and 461 others in the nation because they "were believed dangerous"

Rogers declared "I feel that they should get in touch with us and put their cards on the table. We are groping in the dark for the reason for such action."

"Danger Taken Care Of"

Chief Williams, whose first reaction was covered in two words —"I'm flabbergasted"—claimed that his 26 state mines' division inspectors had worked with federal inspectors and that the government's inspection finding had been of a "minor nature and had been take care of."

He added that while there were 26 fatal accidents in Ohio mines in 1946, the deaths were a record low in the division of mines 74-year-old history—and well below the national average

"We have had excellent cooperation from the mine operators and the miners" Williams declared.

Hyslop said that if the Hanna Coal Co. mines were not safe they would not be operated.

"Won't Lessen Hazard"

"It seems to me," he said, "that the coal mines administration is endeavoring to make the mine safety committees or the mine union share its responsibility for the safety of the mines. Such a program, in my judgment, will not contribute to the reduction of hazards in the mines"

Only two, Hanna Co. mines Hanna Dungien No 11 and Piney Fork No. 1, were included in Krug's closing order Hyslop said the company would follow the orders of the coal mines administrator "by consulting with the safety committees at these mines"

At Cleveland, the Republic Steel Corp. said that only one of its mines—at Brownsville Junction, Pa—was ordered closed This mine, they company said was closed March 29 "because it was exhausted."

he knew of no existing authority for one

"If they seize, and there's a law against striking,' Moran told reporters, "we'll obey the law"

Union leaders declared the strike, scheduled for 6 a. m., local time Monday in the various time zones, appears "inevitable"

As its own last resort, the union appealed directly to members of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co board of directors for help in negotiating a new contract.

The union bypassed the Bell system management, asking A T and T's board to order system officials to seek a reasonable compromise"

Mr Truman's seizure powers under the Smith-Connally act expired last Dec 31 However, the labor department is studying the communications act, in the belief it may permit seizure in this special case

Both the President and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said at separate news conferences yesterday they are examining the matter further well prepare a pretty strong safety bill. We may well consider one of the recommendations of Mr Lewis, that of compulsion in the matter of complying with the inspection reports.

If the subcommittee fails to do that, Rep Kersten (R-Wis), a member, says he will.

"I think," Kersten added, "there should be criminal penalties to compel operators to enforce safety regulations."

Rep. Landis (R-Ind) said he would press a bill he already has introduced for a federal mine inspection system with "teeth."

And Landis said a bill will be introduced to carry out Lewis' proposal for a $710,000 trust fund for widows and orphans of men who died at Centralia and in the coal at Straight Creek in December, 1945

Landis said he will drop in the bill if Rep Vursell (R-Ill) does not. Centralia is in Vursell's district.

The $710,000 is the amount of the fines left standing after the supreme court upheld a federal district court contempt conviction of Lewis and the union for ignoring an order to block last November's strike call.

The original fine against the UMW was $3,500,000, but the tribunal pared that down while leaving Lewis' personal penalty of $10,000 unchanged

The government still is operating the coal mines it seized in a 59-day strike last spring by law it has to turn them back to the private owners July 1.

Woman Freed By Herbert Gets Coat As Going Away Gift

By The Associated Press

MARYSVILLE, O., April 4 — Mrs. Susan DeRighter of Cleveland, wearing a new Easter coat, walked out of the woman's reformatory at 8:21 a. m. today after serving nine months of a one to five-year sentence on an election fraud conviction.

She was met by her husband John, a former state legislator, who had brought the gray fur coat with him as a "going away" gift for his attractive, 44-year-old wife.

Mrs. DeRighter's sentence earlier was commuted to end immediately by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, and DeRighter commented as the couple departed: "Governor Herbert has proved himself to be a humanitarian."

DeRighter, who previously had inspected as a member of the Ohio house of representatives, said:

"I never thought I would be here on a mission like this."

As for Mrs. DeRighter's confinement, he said: "Justice has been blind. Mrs. DeRighter was never guilty."

The couple met in the office of Mrs. Marguerite Reilley, superintendent, and winked back the tears after embracing.

"This is the best woman you ever had in this place," DeRighter told Mrs. Reilley, a friend of the DeRighter family for several years.

As the couple prepared to leave, members of the institution staff and prisoners gathered about to wish farewell to Mrs. DeRighter who had become popular with them.

They hugged her and shook hands and cried, "Goodbye, Susie."

The DeRighters left in an automobile for their home in Cleveland. They were accompanied by a relative.

Mrs. DeRighter, a former Democratic leader in Cleveland, entered the prison on June 13, 1946.

Her job in recent months had been typing records in the prison hospital.

Mrs. DeRighter was convicted in 1944 on charges of false registration and illegal voting. She unsuccessfully appealed her conviction to the Ohio supreme court.

By The Associated Press

ESSEN, Germany, April 4—A one-day strike of 300,000 Ruhr coal miners in protest against food shortages officially ended today, but the pits remained idle as the workmen observed their traditional Good Friday holiday.

They were scheduled to return to work tomorrow, but will be on holiday again Sunday and Monday.

Walkout Notice Filed Against Western Union

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 4 — The Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL), has filed a 30-day Smith-Connally act strike notice on behalf of 50,000 employes of the Western Union Telegraph Co. over the country.

Jesse A. Payne, CTU president, directed copies of the notice yesterday to President Truman, the labor department, the national labor relations board and the company because, he said of a "complete collapse of collective bargaining."

The CTU contract with the Western Union expired April 1 and was extended to July 1, but Payne said a 30-day cancellation clause would permit the union to call a strike any time after May 3.

Exchange Club Backs Cancer Drive

Steps for support of the Marion county cancer control drive were discussed at the weekly dinner meeting of the Exchange club at Hotel Harding Thursday night.

Robert Solinger and William Ogan of the Junior Chamber of Commerce led in the discussion and distributed books of tickets that are given to certify $1 donations to the drive. Members of the Exchange club agree to dispose of these books through sale. Each contains 10 tickets.

Movies showing various aspects of the fight against cancer were shown by Mr. Solinger and Mr. Ogan gave a talk.

The darkness, which blanketed the city for a time Thursday night, occurred while Ogan was speaking and he gave his address in the dark.

Members of the Exchange club voiced approval of the Junior Chamber for its handling the cancer control campaign.

Y-Teen Services Set at Memorial Easter Morning

The annual Easter morning service at the Harding tomb, sponsored by the Y-Teen, formerly Girl Reserves, and Hi-Y clubs, will be held at 7:30. It was announced that in case of unfavorable weather, the service will be held at Trinity Baptist church on South Main street.

Critics of Greek Aid Split Into Opposing Camps

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—Senate critics of President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid proposal divided today into two groups—one determined to fight the program to the end, the other ready to accept it if given no other choice.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), who heads the bitter-end opposition, said he will carry to the senate floor next week his thus far unsuccessful fight to knock out any aid to Turkey and give Greece only relief assistance.

Johnson said he can't vote for the legislation approved 13 to 0 by the foreign relations committee yesterday, with an amendment giving the United Nations a limited veto on the American program.

But Senator Pepper (D-Fla), whose proposal to turn the whole anti-Communism situation over to the UN was defeated in committee, told a reporter he will vote for the bill even if he and others are unsuccessful in amending it in the senate.

"I'm no isolationist," Pepper declared. "I think this sort of assistance should be extended by the United Nations, but I won't agree to do nothing as an alternative."

This division of opponents reinforced a prediction by Senator Connally (D-Tex) that the senate, which may begin debate on the measure next Wednesday, will give it "overwhelming approval" after a week or more of talk.

An Easter message was given by Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church, to Kiwanians when they met for their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding. The meeting also closed the March To Church In March campaign which was sponsored by the club during the last month.

The gold division is made up of clubs of 100 or more members. An announcement was also made that the ladies night party will be held April 17. Reservations are to be made.

The board of directors also decided to contribute a sum up to $500 for equipment for a city playground this summer.

By The Associated Press

FLINT, Mich., April 4—Tenants who rented ten houses from Mrs. Lulu Bell Burdick today were the surprised beneficiaries of her will and owners of the homes.

Mrs. Burdick, who died Monday at 72, left seven houses as outright gifts to their amazed occupiers and stated in the will that three tenants would be asked to pay off mortgages of $2,000 and $2,800.

WORSHIPPERS OF CHRIST IN JERUSALEM CEREMONY

Moslems, Jews Also Observe Religious Rites.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 4—Worshippers of Jesus Christ—in modern dress, desert garb and army uniform—knelt together today to pray on the route Christ followed when he carried his cross to Calvary.

While the Christians observed Good Friday with their traditional procession along the Via Dolorosa (Way of Sorrows) two other religions marked holy observances today.

Early this morning the ancient walled city of Jerusalem was brightened by colorful Moslem banners as the faithful made their way to Haram Esh Sharif to pray before starting their pilgrimage to the desert shrine of Nebi Musa (the prophet Moses).

At sunset today the Jews will begin their prayers at the wailing wall to mark the beginning of the eight day Feast of the Passover. Hordes of orthodox Jews prepared to trudge through the narrow streets of the old city to the wall—presumed to be partially built of stones from Solomon's temple.

Marriages Far Exceed Divorces During March

Marriages more than doubled divorces in Marion county during March, according to reports today from the Marion county clerk of courts office and the probate court.

Marriage licenses issued in probate court last month totaled 46, compared to 20 divorces granted in common pleas court. Marriage licenses last month topped those of February by two.

Divorce cases heard in common pleas court in March numbered 35. Of the 20 divorces granted by the court, 13 went to the wife and seven to the husband. Fifteen suits were dismissed. Custody of seven children was awarded to mother as a result of divorces and two women received name changes.

Sightless Couple Reported Married

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 4—Charles Owens, 41, blind Cincinnati man, and sightless Florence Frutchey, 29, Columbus, O. whose romance attracted nation-wide attention, were married last night in Indianapolis, a relative said today.

The announcement was made here by Mrs. Clyde Owens, a sister-in-law. She said the ceremony was performed at the home of Owens' sister, Mrs. William Lively, and that the newlyweds were expected in Cincinnati later today.

The disappearance of Miss Frutchey from her home last Monday with Owens and a seeing-eye dog caused her mother Mrs. Edna Frutchey, to appeal to police of Columbus, O., Cincinnati and Indianapolis to look for her.

The marriage climaxed a courtship conducted by correspondence in Braille, after the couple met two years ago at an Ohio convention of the Welfare Association of the Sightless.

Dog Quarantine Ordered by Board

The city board of health instituted a dog quarantine for an indefinite period at its monthly meeting Thursday at the city health office.

All dogs, licensed or unlicensed, muzzled or unmuzzled, rabid or non-rabid, will be picked up if caught running unleashed, officials said.

The dogs will be kept for observation for 10 days at the owners' expense after which they may be claimed if non-rabid and licensed.

No cases of rabies have been reported recently, officials said. The dog quarantine has been invoked every spring during recent years.

Truman Calls on U. S. For Good Friday Observance

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—President Truman, saying that the world in recent years has learned "many lessons which the mystery of sorrow teaches," called on the nation today to participate in Good Friday church services.

The President, in a brief statement to the Times Herald which the paper ran under the heading "What Good Friday Means To Me," said:

"The world in these latter years has learned many lessons which the mystery of sorrow teaches. I trust, therefore, that the people of this nation will participate actively in church services during the sacred period on Good Friday, meditating on the lessons taught by the Savior on this day and exemplifying by their daily lives those noble Christian virtues."

Iowa Man Reunited With His 16th Wife

By The Associated Press

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., April 4—J. F. Williams, Iowa's most married man, and his sixteenth wife were back together today.

After a day-long search yesterday, Williams found her "sitting in the Union station," where she said she had been "visiting."

Police Sergeant Leonard Bruce said Williams, 65, reported his wife left home after they quarreled when he asked her to get up and fix breakfast. Their marriage was disclosed last month.

Mrs. Williams, the former Mrs. Louise Parker, 60, of Cleveland, said they were married Oct. 4 at Kansas City after a mail romance.

Williams was first married in 1904. One marriage lasted 24 years, but the others were relatively short in duration. One wife married and divorced him four times.

COURT OF APPEALS TO GET PORTAL SUIT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 4 — The Sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals is scheduled today to receive the communications which may decide the disposition of the Mt. Clemens pottery workers portal-to-portal pay suit.

An agreement between Attorneys for the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., of Mt. Clemens, Mich., and the workers for dismissal of the employes' appeal from a lower court decision in the case will be presented to the court. And, at the same time, in communication on the matter from Attorney General Tom C. Clark is to be given the court's attention.

The Mt. Clemens workers appealed a decision of district Judge Frank A. Picard of Detroit, who had ruled against them, but Edward Lamb, counsel for the employes petitioned the appellate court earlier this week to dismiss the appeal.

At Washington, legal authorities said the situation boiled down to this:

If the reported dismissal agreement calls for dropping the case "with prejudice to any further action"—that is permanently, there is little the attorney general can do to keep it alive for supreme court review, which he has requested.

If the dismissal is being asked "without prejudice," that is, so that the appeal could be taken later, the attorney general would then be able to insist upon immediate final review in the supreme court.

PRO FOOTBALL BANS HAPES AND FILCHOCH

Gridders Barred for Role in "Fix" Scandal.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 4—The door barring Merle Hapes and Frank Filchock from professional football — probably forever — swung shut today.

Square-jawed Bert Bell, commissioner of the National football league, in the most far-reaching rulings in the annals of the pro gridiron game, suspended them indefinitely for their roles in the attempted fix of last year's championship game.

Bell admitted the decision was a "tough one to make." He said the New York Giants' backfield stars were found guilty of "actions detrimental to the welfare of the National football league and of professional football."

"Professional football," Bell said in his decision announced yesterday, "can not continue to exist unless it is based upon absolute honesty. The players must be not only absolutely honest; they must be above suspicion."

The ruling on Filchock and Hapes was the most recent chapter in the greatest sports scandal since the 1919 World Series. Only 24 hours earlier three men had been sentenced to prison terms for their parts in the attempt to fix last December's game.

MOLOTOV CALLS U. S. PLAN DANGEROUS

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 4—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today he saw a danger that American proposals for the political organization of Germany would lead to Germany's dismemberment.

Molotov made the statement in answer to questions submitted by Johannes Steel, an American writer and former radio commentator.

The Soviet minister also said was his opinion that the results of such a development would give "German militarists and revanchists (revengers)" an opportunity to make the affairs of Germany into their own hands.

In the first official Soviet comment on President Truman's proposed aid to Greece, Molotov went on record with the declaration he doubted the plan would "restore democracy" in Greece.

The best way to restore democracy to Greece would be to do away with foreign intervention, Molotov commented

Molotov's declaration on Greece and other questions came in questions and answers put to him in writing by Steel, who arrived in Moscow early in the conference of foreign ministers

(The exchange was broadcast by the Moscow radio)

Molotov stated a compromise was possible between Russia's proposal for a unified Germany and the United States plan for a federal Germany, if the questions could be decided by a German plebiscite

NEW TRAFFIC CODE PASSED FOR BUCYRUS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 4 — A much discussed new traffic code, under consideration since last September was finally given the okay by city council Tuesday night when the code became a law following its passage as an "emergency" measure

New traffic signs are to be erected immediately to back up the new code and $3,236 was allocated by action of council following recommendation of the finance committee, for purchases and erection of the new signs.

Several new streets have been designated as one side parking areas and no parking areas in other sections of the city were created by the new legislation. Another provision provides for 12 new through streets.

As a result of the new code another traffic light will be installed at East Mansfield and Iron streets and a flasher light will be placed east of the underpass on East Mansfield street.

City council also adopted a resolution approving the state highway department's plan for resurfacing route 12-100 in Bucyrus which extends south on Sandusky avenue east one block on Charles and south one block on Walnut and southeast on Hopley to the corporation line. The project is estimated to cost from $22,900 to $30,000 and is to be completed this year

TRUMAN POLISHES TOMORROW'S SPEECH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—President Truman picked his words today in polishing up his tomorrow night's $100-a-plate Jefferson day dinner.

He placed White House officials reported he will steer clear of any direct commitment on the 1948 presidential campaign.

Democratic national committee leaders under whose auspices he will speak made no secret of their conviction that they are presenting the party's next nominee.

Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and the buff-colored Truman went into the ring some weeks ago in New York and Executive Director Gael Sullivan is outspoken in his advocacy of the Missouri incumbent.

The President has let them do all the talking. After Hannegan "introduced" him, he told a news conference the chairman spoke "on his own."

When asked at his news conference yesterday whether the Jefferson day speech will be political, Mr. Truman merely said the address will speak for itself.

A close friend of the President who had a peek at an early draft said it will emphasize legislative requests he made in his state of the union and budget messages to congress and his economic report in January.

U. S. Moves for Japanese Reparations Showdown

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 4—The United States moved today toward a showdown with Russia over the division of Japanese reparations, with all signs pointing to a battle as bitter as the one going on at the Moscow conference regarding war damages from Germany.

At stake are about 1,000 Japanese industrial plants earmarked for shipment to various countries in payment for damage during the war. Over Russian objections, the United States intends to send about 300 of them immediately to China, the Philippines, and eastern possessions of the Netherlands and Great Britain.

The country fought and won the preliminary skirmish with the Russians late yesterday when it invoked a procedural maneuver to break a deadlock over its plan to give the four nations some reparations without delay for "relief purposes."

election workers claimed no union representative appeared to sign up the men. Employes of the plant then voted to form Local 353. However, the Operating Engineers still hold the bargaining rights at the plant as a result of last fall's election.

Employes of the plant filed a 30-day strike notice with the NLRB last month in an effort to bring about a settlement. They claim they have not been able to participate in wage increases and contract proceedings.

Foreign Newsmen Tour Plant of Red Newspaper, Pravda

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 4—The editors of Pravda opened their giant plant today to a party of British and American correspondents, who were given an inside glimpse of the workings of Soviet journalism.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party, sets the thinking pace for the average Soviet citizen and its editorials frequently echo in world capitals where they are read for indications of Kremlin policy.

With a circulation of 2,500,000, Pravda brings in 500,000 rubles a day—almost $100,000 at the official rate. It not only pays its own way, but makes a profit for the Communist party, its editors said.

The newspaper's 16 linotype machines and 19 rotary presses, largely of American, British and German manufacture, turn out 600,000 copies of the four-page publication every hour for three hours nightly to satisfy the 1,600,000 Moscow readers. The other 700,000 copies are published in eight Russian cities, to which full-page matrices are flown daily.

Pravda publishes no crime or disaster news. Its editors say that type of news is unimportant. From 40 to 50 per cent of its space is devoted to foreign news.

The newspaper's plant is nine stories high and covers a city block. Besides Pravda, it publishes two other newspapers and 20 magazines.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I MADE no attempt to reprove Mary, even by saying, "Hush, child," when she made her gruesome wish.

Instead, I stroked her hair gently, murmuring, "There, there, dear!" as one does to a sobbing child.

She spoke no more, and I continued stroking her hair and murmuring the endearment until her eyes closed and she sank into the deep slumber which I knew was induced by the drug Dr. Twitchell had given her.

When I was sure that she was asleep, I covered her warmly but lightly, as the physician had ordered, left the night light in the bath room burning, and started to turn out the one in the bedroom. Then, with a sudden thought, I left it burning, and quietly went through the door into the sitting room, leaving the door slightly ajar.

To my great relief, Noel was nowhere to be seen. But Dr. Twitchelland Dicky both started up at my entrance.

"Asleep?" they queried as with one voice.

"I am sure of it," I told them. "But I want my opinion confirmed before I start talking."

"Exactly," Dr. Twitchell said. "Do you want me to go in and look at her?"

"Yes. I would feel much safer if you did."

"Sit down," he said, looking at his wrist watch, "and relax. We will not speak for ten minutes, so that we can hear any movement from the bedroom. Then, at the end of that time, I will go in and see whether or not she has succumbed to the drug."

It seemed an eternity, that ten minutes, as we sat silent and tense waiting for the time the physician had mentioned to pass.

Then, at last, Dr. Twitchell rose, and went on noiseless feet into the bedroom. I felt when he returned as if I had not drawn a breath since he left, and knew that Dicky shared my feeling.

But his face reassured me, and we relaxed even before he spoke.

"She won't awaken untill morning," he said. "But we will take no chances. We will leave the door ajar, and speak in muted tones."

He looked at Dicky next.

"How did you manage the distraught young husband?" he asked. "It is a great relief not to have him on our hands in this consultation."

Dicky gave a wry grin.

"I put the fear of God into him," he said. "I made him believe that Mary's life and reason might hinge on her getting to sleep without any further excitement tonight."

"I trust I am not pessimistic," Dr. Twitchell said gravely, "but I must tell you that what you told Noel is very nearly the truth."

"Good God!" Dicky sprang to his feet, while I clung to the arms of my chair as if they would give me security in a reeling world. "Do you mean that Mary is in real danger?"

"Very grave danger," the physician replied, "unless we can find out what particular phobia is distressing her.

"There is one fortunate thing, so far," he said. "There is no sign of any cold or flu or pulmonary complication. But"—he paused and spaced his words impressively—"she is so weak that she easily could contract anything, pick up any bug that is flying around. And her mental conditions is terrifying. Tell me, Mrs. Graham—she did not betray her real feelings to me, she did a splendid bit of acting—but did she not express a wish for death, a vehement one?"

"Yes, she did," I said, conscious that my face was paling, and hearing again Dicky's horrified ejaculation.

"Then, I must warn you," Dr. Twitchell said gravely, "that she must be watched every one of her waking minutes. You must call in nurses immediately."

Strip-Mining Bills Go Back for Study

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Legislation to regulate strip mining in Ohio reposed in the hands of a senate conservation subcommittee today.

Two controversial measures were committed to further study by a sub-committee composed of Sens. Clingan Jackson (D-Mahoning), sponsor of one of the bills, Joseph R. Nutt Jr., (R-Cuyahoga) and Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit).

Nutt and Jackson, along with Chairman C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), voted against further study of the proposals during the committee's fourth hearing.

Originally the measure would have regulated all mining, stone quarries and gravel banks.
